From your Pres.:

We are supposed to get some cooler, drier weather this week and I hope everyone is able to enjoy it. I'm sure the plants are looking forward to it also.

Winter preparations should be on your minds and how best to care for your orchids during the cold spells. Remember that some need a cool spell to start setting their blossoms and some don't like to be cold. Be aware of your plants' needs and treat them accordingly. Some may need a burst of fertilizer and some may just want to rest for a while. Get to know your plants, have a little pep talk with them, and listen to what they are telling you.

Please remember all those who have been affected by hurricanes this year and keep them in your thoughts and prayers. The devastation was considerable in many places, and we know how long it takes to fully recover from the physical and emotional pains of the damage. I hope if any of you had family or friends in the paths, they are safe.

This will be a very busy week for me and I had hoped to get to the meeting on Tuesday but I don't think I will be able to make it. On Tuesday I see my oncologist and my chemotherapist back to back. Early Wednesday morning I head to East Jefferson General Hospital (7:00 am) for a lung biopsy to determine if I need spot radiation before my chemo. On Friday I go back to have a chemo port inserted into my chest (6:00 am). I do hope the meeting goes well. Let me apologize that this newsletter is late because I am just getting to my message on Sunday night.

Have a great meeting and start thinking of elections in November. Because of what I will be going through this next year, I will not be able to continue as President. Our Secretary and Treasurer have volunteered to continue for another year. Therefore, we will need to nominate a President and Vice-President for next year. Please consider running for the offices and if no one nominates you, nominate yourself! Hope to see you before the year ends, it just depends on my reaction to the possible radiation and twelve weeks of chemo.

Enjoy the Fall weather and good growing,

Russel Deroche, Jr.
